Making large sums of money is...
Telling the world I am an expert is...
I never have enough...
In order to create the success I dream of, I will have to...
Rich people are...
Wanting more than I need is...
Having more than I need is...
Raising my prices is...
Creating a massive positive impact on people is...
Putting myself out there everyday is...
Failure is...
My biggest dreams are...
In order to deserve what I desire I must...
My limiting beliefs are costing me...

1 being no negative emotional response to my answer, 10 being it makes me want to hurl

Create a powerful positive emotional mantra to counter your money mindset with the highest score. For Example: My old story was that in order to create the success I dream of I will have to WORK HARD.

My new story: I require, desire, and deserve money to flow easily and effortlessly to me and in greater quantity than it flows out!

Repeat it outloud and with passion everytime you make a sale, accept a payment, sign a contract or even just think to yourself "I need x, y, z money..."

Instructions

1

Enter your revenue goal for the month.

2

Enter dates.

3

Does your business have payments from clients already set up on Autopay? If so, go ahead and add the amount you will receive on its expected date of receipt, this way you can notice the magical money that comes through for you even more easily!

4

At least once a week update the MAGICAL row - These are funds that came in outside of the planned items - A new client/contract - A refund from the IRS - ETC.

5

Collect the EVIDENCE that things are always working out for you. This is every penny found on the ground, unexpected discount from a vendor, free gift, ETC.

6

CELEBRATE - regardless of the outcome celebrate every dollar found - the more we celebrate and are grateful the more abundance that will come our way. After doing this for a couple of months you will see that your "actual revenue" is increasing from expected and unexected resources. A celebration could look like this - Turning on your favorite song and dancing it out. Getting out of your chair and doing a happy dance. Hi-fiving your business partner or assistant. Doing a water ritual thanking the universe for the abundance in your life. Whatever your celebration is, make sure you say your new money mantra everytime you are filling out this sheet.

7

At the end of the month total all your planned and magical money and enter it on the ACTUAL REVENUE line. Celebrate one last time before starting a new sheet and notice how good you feel in your body regardless of being under or over your goal.
